

The Second Test of English

I was about six years old when my father took me to school for the first time. I remember all the children were lined up. After some time, a teacher called my name. and sent me to the classroom. I became nervous as all the children were unknown to me. But within a short time, I found a girl who was our neighbour. We talked and sat on the same bench. Then the teacher entered the room. When he started talking, I felt fine. The teacher was very friendly and everything passed well. In my school days, I had many friends. We used to gossip and play and sometimes fight over silly things. I had two best friends. They were very nice and loyal to me. Every teacher in my school liked us. Although, we weren't brilliant students but we respected our elders and loved our youngers. My childhood was really amazing. These primary school memories fulfil my heart of joy and happiness. It was one of the best moments of my life.
