...../20

Part One: A-Reading Comprehension:

I'm Professor Belgacem Haba, an Algerian researcher in the field of electronics. I was born in 1975 in El M'ghayer, El Oued. I was a descent kid. I always stayed outside the school doing my homework. People thought I was homeless! I was staying in the freezing weather alone. At home, I studied under the light of a candle. I was punctual, ambitious and hardworking.

My parents helped me a lot and encouraged me to never give up, to be self-confident and work hard to turn my dreams into reality.

Now that I'm one on the most successful researchers in the world, my advice for young students is to have a goal and work hard on it. Believe in yourself and never give up. I come from the desert, from one of the poorest villages where there was no electricity. I had an opportunity and I took it. So don't miss opportunities!
