Third Term English Exam/2015

Text:

Louis Braille was born in 1809, in France. He lived there until he died. When he was three years old, he became blind. In 1825, he left his studies and started working. Three years later, Louis Braille went to school for blind people. He wanted to learn reading. So, he thought a lot and invented a writing system (letters read by touching ) in 1829. This system is a great help for blind people. Louis died in 1852.
